give evidence by witnesses who knew where they spoke, adding, "I have neither the sword, nor the brush to use as weapons." Dr. John D. Swell, graduate of Harvard medical school, testified the students received a large number of infant bodies, which they bought from Wm. Andrews, junior, at from $3 to $5 each. Andrews said he obtained all the bodies from the almshouse. Andrews also killed himself. The dissection showed that in many instances the infants had no food for twenty-four hours before death. Witnesses said the bodies were dissected on the same table with the animals and the remains except into the same receptacle. The students chip in to obtain them.

John M. Cass, employed at the almshouse in 1880, and discharged for drunkenness, testified to driving a team containing a large number of bodies from the almshouse to Harvard; heard Marsh, the assistant superintendent, say he received $10 for adult bodies; there were between 300 and 400 deaths a year; sometimes funerals were held over coffins filled with wood. Butler offered a letter alleging that Marsh prevailed upon the disposition of bodies. Ad. Journal.

THE TELEGRAPH CONSOLIDATION.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Jay Gould's answer in the first suit of Wm. F. Williams against the Western Union and others, in the supreme court, was served to-day. This suit is brought to annul the consolidation between the Western Union, American Union and Atlantic & Pacific telegraph companies. The answer is a general denial of the allegations in the complaint. Gould alleges that at a meeting on February 5, 1881, the agreements of January 19 and February 3, for consolidation, were ratified by a vote of 318,225 shares in favor of 609 against. At the same meeting 308,189 shares voted in favor of increasing the capital stock to $80,000,000 and 100 shares voted against it.

WHAT CORNERS.

CHICAGO, March 29.—The information has reached here that the supreme court now sitting at Springfield has held an opinion in the case of the Chicago board of trade in favor of the latter. The suits twenty in number, grew out of what was known as "the July wheat corner," the market for the close of that month having reached 1.36. A large number of operators refuse to settle at the figure named and the amount thus held back was estimated between two and three million dollars. The matter was taken before the arbitration committee board and the hearing extended nearly one month. The losing operators urged that the work had been cornered by a clique and cited as an instance the price of cash wheat. The case has additional interest as it is deemed a test one. A motion was made to dismiss the case, but the court refused to do so.

GREEN BAY'S GRIEF.

Funeral of the Late Postmaster General at His Wisconsin Home.

Life Long Friends by the Thousands Follow Him to the Grave.

THE SERVICES AT THE CHURCH AND THE CEMETERY.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THIS DAY. GREEN BAY, Wis., March 29.—The train bearing the remains of the late Hon. Timothy O. Howe arrived at the Chicago & Northwestern depot at 5:50 this morning. A committee from the Brown County Bar association received the body, which, being placed in a hearse and escorted by the committee, was taken to Howe's residence on Main street. At 10:50 o'clock the bells in the city began tolling off 67 strokes, the age of the deceased, and the casket was borne from the house to a hearse in waiting and conveyed to the Presbyterian church. Before 2 o'clock, the hour set for beginning the funeral exercises, the church was packed to the doors, while several hundred persons, unable to gain admission, stood in the streets until the conclusion of the exercises. The floral tributes were profuse and of magnificent kind, some of the principal pieces being those used at the services in Kenosha yesterday. The funeral services were begun at about 2 o'clock with a chant "Abide with me" by the Presbyterian choir. Rev. L. J. White, pastor of the church, offered a brief prayer, which was followed by the solo "Nearer My God to Thee" by Mrs. M. D. Kimball, sung to the air "Robin Adair," a favorite song of Mr. Howe. Rev. H. M. Simmons delivered a very affecting tribute to the life and character of the distinguished statesman.

The services at the cemetery consisted simply of reading the Presbyterian burial service for the dead by Rev. L. J. White and a few remarks by Rev. H. M. Simmons. As the coffin was being lowered into the grave, Miss Grace Howe, niece of Judge Howe, was overcome by emotion and fainted. She was tenderly cared for and soon recovered. Each of the pall bearers passed around the grave and dropped upon the coffin 5 small bouquets, given them at the cemetery for the purpose. The floral decorations at the grave were very beautiful and will remain until they dry and crumble and mingle with the dust of him to whose memory they were the grateful tributes of loving hearts. There were no visitors from Washington but the larger attendance of the most notable men in the state.

THE HAVERTICK HOMELIFE.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The grand jury to-day began the investigation of the case of George W. Conkling, Jr., who shot and killed Wilbur H. Havertick, and he will probably be indicted and rearrested. Recorder Smith in addressing the grand jury instructed them to investigate the case, and said that Police Justice Smith had exceeded his powers in assuming to decide homicide was justifiable. This action, the recorder said, does not stop the grand jury from indicting Conkling. Counsel for Mrs. Ulmer have received instructions to begin legal proceedings against Dr. Armidon for the recovery of $550 which Mrs. Ulmer claims to be due her out of the sum left by Havertick at the time of his death.

THE BRADWOOD MINE.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Despairing of overcoming the obstructions in the Bradwood mine, which now make it difficult to search for the remaining bodies, a correspondent states that the owners are considering the proposition to close and abandon the mine and erect over the entrance a monument to the memory of these entombed. This suggestion is opposed by the friends of the dead men. No additional progress was made up to a late hour in clearing away the debris.

A FRIGHTFUL AFFAIR.

HALIFAX, March 29.—A report from Lingan says: Magistrate McNeil and several volunteers and constables were overpowered by a mob at Little George bay to-day while attempting to arrest the Lingan rioters. Constable Mungrove had taken refuge in the Glouce bay lockup to save himself from the mob. The volunteers have been ordered back to the garrison to await instructions from headquarters.

DETERMINED SUICIDE.

HALIFAX, March 29.—A person believed to be H. W. Eston, of Calais, Maine, who attempted suicide on the train, emptied five chambers of his revolver at his head while lying in a berth. The conductor seized his hand before he could fire the sixth shot. There was great commotion in the car. The man is under arrest, but cannot be removed from the hotel.

MRS. MECKER'S LAST DAY.

WINDSOR, Vermont, March 29.—Mrs. Mecker, convicted of killing her daughter, will be hanged to-morrow. She was calm most of the day but seems to appreciate the helpless condition and is expected to break down. She received a letter from her son Almon to-day offering consolation and urging her to confess.

SOUTHERN OVERFLOWS.

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—The Atchafalaya river is rising two inches a day. The new levees between Churchville and Simmsport are fast giving way, and very few of the plantations along the river will escape the overflow.
